The bug stops here.

Update anti-virus and anti-malware programs to prevent infections from getting into your network.
Do you know what’s inside?

Shred, erase, or destroy all sensitive information before throwing anything away.
Do you know who to call?

When a cyber security incident occurs, pick up the phone and let the right people know.

Report incidents to:
How much is your data worth?

All information has value. Keep your organization’s data safe—lock it up or destroy it once it’s no longer needed.
Do you know who is in your building?

Prevent unauthorized access to sensitive information by making sure everyone is wearing identification badges and challenge those who aren’t.